Estimated costs total $844,000; is an all time January record

Arlington Heights building department issued permits during January for 51 new homes, costing $844,000 and two garages. This is the greatest number issued in the month of January in any year.

According to Edward J. Ahmer, Arlington Heights building commissioner, there will be a lot of building activity in Scarsdale the next few months. Leonard W. Besinger and Associates have been issued permits for 40 homes, construction costs of which are given as $17,500 each.

All will be two story, brick construction with garages. The majority of them will have four bedrooms. Twelve different designs will be used.

Tabulation of January building permits were had by completed before Mr. Ahmer received a number of inquiries from firms that are preparing rather large developments in various parts of the village. "I thought that the number of January permits was outstanding," says the building commissioner, "but there are still bigger months on the way."

TEN HOMES will be constructed in the 500 and 600 block of Lincoln Lane; four on Beverly Lane; nine in the 300 block of Bristol Lane; six will be erected on E. Mayfair in the 400, 600 and 700 block; three on Banbury rd.; seven will be built on the west side of S. Pine, all in the 500 block. State road will get one house at No. 545.

John Lindstrom is erecting a $25,000 home at 800 S. Beverly. A. C. Jacobs and Trude Land Development Co. have each taken Mr. Trude will erect three on S. Vail at 618, 637 and 728. The fourth house will be at 801 S. Highland.

Paul Petersen has taken out permits for two houses, 501 and 503 Lincoln Lane, in Eastwood Estates.

ANTHONY KOSKE will erect a 42x72 garage and office at 625 N. Kasper. Ray Palmer will build a single garage at 820 N. Yale.

Architects in charge of the proposed telephone building made inquiries this week regarding building restrictions and it is expected that a start will be made early this spring. The demolition of the old residence on the property will start soon.

Still looking for 15-year-old Palatine boy gone two weeks

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Taylor of Palatine are puzzled over the disappearance of their 15-year-old son, Lester, missing from home since January 23. The family lives on Palos road, west of Palatine.

It seems that Lester skipped classes Monday, January 22, then started hitchhiking away from home the next day rather than ask for an excuse to get back into school the next day. A friend saw him climb aboard a truck on Rand road January 23.

Police have been unable to locate the boy, weighing 135 pounds and being 5' 4" tall. In the eighth grade at Palatine, he was wearing tan pants, a red and black plaid jacket over a figured yellow sweater, wearing no cap, and has dark brown hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor feel Lester, having left home with just 60 cents, may be working at some service station or garage nearby, inasmuch as he was always interested in mechanics.

Book Fair at St. James school this week end

A Book Fair will be held this Saturday, Sunday and Monday at St. James Catholic school, Arlington Heights, in conjunction with Catholic Press month.

The fair will be held on the upper floor of the school, and will be conducted each day between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m., and 7 and 9 p. m. Books to suit the taste of everyone from eight to eighty will be on display. Special features will be the current best seller, "Joy Street," by Frances Keyes, and "The Cardinal," by Henry Morton Robinson.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON some of the books will be reviewed by the students of the eighth grade. The students can be bought right at the fair or ordered for future delivery.

The fair is open to the general public, who are also invited to take a tour of the classrooms to view murals, posters and drawings made by the students of St. James.

Paul Schwengels
CC secretary resigns; goes to Waukesha, Wis.

Paul Schwengels, secretary of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce tendered his resignation to the board of directors Monday. He has accepted a similar position with the Waukesha Chamber of Commerce and will report on his new job Feb. 22.

Waukesha is a city of 25,000 and the CC has a yearly budget several times the size of Arlington. The office force includes four girls. The change means an advancement in CC work that Paul did not feel he could turn down.

Schwengels has held his present position 15 months and has done an excellent job. He left a clerical position in Wisconsin to enter CC work and the present offer is evidence that he has made good on the Arlington job and has a bright future before him.

As one director said Monday, "Paul is just too big a man for the local job here and naturally he leaves with our best wishes."

A special committee is considering the appointment of some local person.

Four new members of the board of directors were elected by mailed ballots last week. They are George Harris, Carl Weinrich, Victor Beisler, and Clarence Hendrickson.

Annual meeting of the C of C will be held Feb. 20. At this meeting three of Arlington Heights prominent citizens, Dr. Elfeld, Dr. Best and George Klehm will receive public recognition.

Offer smallpox vaccinations to school children

Smallpox vaccinations are again being offered to all school children in Arlington Heights the week of February 19.

Pre-school children between the ages of one and five years may also be vaccinated if appointments are made previously, by calling the Arlington Heights Health Center between the hours of 3:30 and 4:45 p. m., Monday, Wednesday or Friday.

A charge of fifty cents will be made for each vaccination. All vaccinations will be done by local doctors.

Schedule of vaccinations is: Monday, Feb. 19, 1 p. m., St. Peter's Lutheran school.

Tuesday, Feb. 20, 9 a. m., Arlington Heights township high school.

Wednesday, Feb. 21, 9 a. m., North school.

Thursday, Feb. 22, 9 a. m., South school and Junior high.

Friday, Feb. 23, 9 a. m., St. James school.

Uncle Sam has decided that Mt. Prospect and Palatine need additional space for the post offices at those two towns. He is not aware of the crowded conditions at Arlington Heights.

A notice soliciting bids for 2400 square feet of space for postoffice purposes has been posted at Mt. Prospect. Rumor has it that an investor is considering the erection of a new building to be rented to the government. Uncle Sam is asking for 2400 square feet of space.

Agreement has been tentatively reached at Palatine that will nearly double the present space used by that postoffice.

Virginia Dodge, Arlington Hts. postmaster has not heard a word about new quarters. She recently called the attention of the department to the fact that the present postoffice lease expired Jan. 15, 1957.

All three postoffices are very crowded. The rural route out of Arlington now serves over 700 families. Previous promises for relief by establishment of a second route have not brought any action. The excuse is lack of funds.

Arlington has eight city routes and nine persons employed in the office, making a total of 17. Mt. Prospect has one rural carrier, four city and three in the postoffice—a total of 8. Palatine has 4 clerks, 3 rural carriers, and 4 city carriers.

Mr. Carlisle resides with his family at 1006 S. Vail. He has been a resident of Arlington Hts. for four years. He is a commercial engineer employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in addition to Mrs. Carlisle's family consists of two daughters, Ann, 9, a pupil of the fourth grade, and Susan, who is in kindergarten.

Wm. Luehring needs no introduction to Herald readers. He operates the Yellow and City Cabs. For many years he has been employed by the village as superintendent of public works and has been a member of the village board four years.

Mr. Neumann has served two terms as police magistrate. He gives a lot of attention to that office and his court decisions are so fairly given that there has been very little complaint from either the person who pays the fine or from complainants.

5 fire trucks battle flames; save Knaack Buick garage

Firemen of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Palatine, with five trucks, fought a $200,000 fire at 8:30 Wednesday morning that completely destroyed the A & P store on Campbell st., Arlington Heights. The walls remain standing but the entire interior, including the roof, was gutted.

The loss of building, equipment and contents is estimated at $200,000.

THE EXACT cause of the fire is not known. Ed Kostka, an employee of the store, was sitting in his car in the adjoining parking lot awaiting the arrival of the assistant manager to unlock the door, when he saw smoke coming from the rear of the building. He called the fire department.

Richard Taege, employed in the Knaack Buick garage, heard a cracking noise and looking through the garage window saw flames and smoke in the boiler room of the store. Pete Meng, also employed at the garage, says that he looked through the same window five minutes earlier and he saw nothing wrong.

THE REAR of the store and the rear of the Knaack Buick garage adjoin. When flames shot through the roof of the store the Mt. Prospect and Palatine departments were called, the radio being used to get the latter.

On arrival of the Arlington firemen they found one front window had been blown out by a blast of unknown origin. The other windows were cracked and within a few minutes three leads of hose were playing on the fire.

THE STORE was one mass of flames with a few minutes and minutes later the roof fell.

The Palatine fire truck was stationed at the hydrant south of the municipal building. The Mt. Prospect truck connected with the hydrant at Wing and Vail. Hose lines from these trucks were run through the front door of the Knaack garage to a rear window. One of the village trucks was attached to a hydrant at Dunton and Campbell and both Vail and Dunton streets were closed to traffic.

The temperature was zero. Some of the firemen did not wait to pull on boots and stood in icy water over their shoe tops. The women's auxiliary opened up the firemen's room and served hot coffee and other eats to the firemen. Vern Hagenbren sent over several boxes of gloves and socks for the firemen with wet feet and almost frozen hands.

ALL POLICE officers were called to duty and at vantage points directed traffic. They report that more than one kind of woman brought them coffee and rolls that kept them warm inside even if their hands, faces and feet were cold.

The firemen proved themselves veterans and demonstrated their ability in fire fighting and willingness to forego personal comfort in the line of duty.

Paddock Publications received a phone call Wednesday noon from the A & P Chicago office asking this newspaper to express their thanks and appreciation over the service given by the firemen and the police department.

THE ARLINGTON store was managed by Raymond Leavitt who was off duty Wednesday. Tuesday night he turned the store over to Emil Detrola, asst. manager, who reports that the two made a careful inspection of the interior of the store before leaving.

The store was heated by oil; the storage tank with a capacity of 1,500 to 2,000 gallons is underground.

THIS PROBLEM has been hanging fire for a long time, with the first protests of the ordinance coming last June when the race track clientele sought permission to park their trailers in the village during the racing season. At that late date no action to permit the parking of trailers could be taken.

The board tried reconsidering the ban but finally decided it was to the best interest of the community as a whole to continue to prohibit the parking of trailers in the village.

Mayor Albert W. Goedke said, "As long as we decided to maintain the ban we must see that it is enforced and that absolutely no exceptions are made."

Park, village boards to meet to discuss railroad parking lots

A special meeting to discuss the proposed railroad parking lots will be held next Monday night with members of the village and park boards present. This is a job that needs doing. It is on the 1951 program of two taxing bodies. The conference will probably decide the "demarcation" line so that nobody will step on anybody else's toes.

The village of Arlington Heights was recently granted permission to use certain specified areas of the railroad parks for commuter parking lots. Last June the village appropriated $3,000 to be used to improve these areas. In order to get more available parking space immediately it was the general consensus of the board to work on the unimproved areas first.

E. F. Laurin, village auditor, will also be present at this meeting to go over the annual audit with board members.

THE CITIZENS' committee recommended that George Tuttle and H. B. Hutten be appointed to fill the vacancies on the planning committee. The board confirmed the appointments. They are replacing A. T. Haakinson, who has moved out of town, and N. M. Latoff, who resigned his position.

The Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a public hearing in the near future on the proposed ordinance asking that buildings be kept at least three feet from the lot line on one side and nine feet on the other, providing no garage is attached. If accepted it will amend the existing ordinance which calls for buildings to be only three feet from the lot line on both sides.

A minimum of nine feet is necessary in order that a driveway for an unattached garage may be built on one side of the house without overlapping on neighboring property.

TRAVELOQUE ON CALIF. AT H. H. MONDAY NIGHT

A travelogue and technicolor movie, "California Calls," will be presented by Ray Eggerstedt at the Arlington Heights high school Monday night at 8 p. m.

This is the second in the Travel and Adventure series being offered at the high school as part of the Adult Evening school. Enrollments are still being accepted, and anyone interested in joining the group may attend the travelogue Monday night and enroll at that time.

URGES schools run four quarter system to relieve overcrowding

A proposal that schools forget the two-semester tradition and operate four quarters a year to aid overcrowding is suggested this week in "Tax Facts," one of the regular weekly features of Paddock Publications.

Don Hager, operating under the name of Electronics Service, is moving from previous quarters to the Arlington Appliance store at 11 West Davis, operated by Steve Csanadi. Mr. Csanadi will continue to operate his sports goods department and electrical contracting business.

Mr. Csanadi had the misfortune to collapse last Saturday. The firemen's pulmotor was called and he was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, where he is recuperating.

Civil Defense in full strength March 31st

Arlington Heights Council of Defense held its second meeting Tuesday night at the village hall. At this meeting additional personnel were appointed to various committees, reports of chairmen were heard and the end of March was set as the deadline for completion of the organization.

Mrs. William S. Arnold of the Woman's club will act as permanent secretary. Members of the Civil Defense Council are: Albert Goedke, mayor; Nicholas Latoff, director of civil defense; John Randag, deputy director in charge of personnel procurement; Hugo Thal, village attorney; Carl Skoog and Richard Jahn, co-chairmen, law enforcement; Elroy J. Winkelman and Marvin Rodewald, co-chairmen, fire services.

William Meyer, engineering services and utilities; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lippold, co-chairmen, medical and health services; Forrest Davis, welfare services; William W. Luehring and Virgil K. Horath, co-chairmen, transportation, evacuation and dispersion, mutual aid and mobile support; William C. Lathen, communications; Victor H. Beisler, air raid warden service; and R. E. Claiborn, public information, education and training.

William Luehring pointed out the need for protection of our utility plants. Sabotage is something that would hurt a lot, and we must watch for it; therefore, a fence should be erected around the pump house and water towers, Luehring stated. "It doesn't take much to contaminate the water," he said.

The Council will meet again February 21 at 7:30 p. m. at the village hall. At this time chairmen will have their committees ready to function, all difficulties will be discussed, and any overlapping of duties will be eliminated.

Arlington Boy Scout drive in full swing

Richard Black, chairman of Arlington Heights Boy Scout Finance Drive says Arlington's goal this year is $3000. The cost to NWS Council is $10 per scout per year.

The tremendous benefits derived by the scouts for this small expenditure however can only be continued on the same basis provided the contributions are generous enough to cover the cost of more and bigger programs for ever increasing numbers of cubs and scouts.

PROBLEM OF ADJUSTMENT
By PATRICIA MATTESSON
Visiting Counselor

In the complicated process of growing up and adapting his behavior to the demands of different environments and personalities, many a child is thrown temporarily out of gear emotionally. He feels unsure of his ability to make friends, to live up to the standards set for him, to be loved and respected for being his own, natural self.

In his attempts to compensate for his feelings of insecurity, he may develop dishonesty, bullying, defiance towards authority, withdrawal tendencies, or self-pity. He may show infantile patterns of behavior, in an effort to be protected and loved as he was as a baby. These undesirable behaviors tend to cause social disapproval or neglect, which increase his insecurity, thereby stimulating worse behavior.

SOME PROBLEMS of children correct themselves. Some are potentially serious. The counseling program in our schools exists for the purpose of helping children to solve their problems at a time when they are relatively easy to overcome. If it appears that a child needs more assistance in working through his emotional or social difficulties than the classroom teacher has time to give him, she refers him to the visiting counselor. Sometimes parents ask for this special help, and sometimes children refer themselves.

First of all, the counselor attempts to create a warm, secure relationship with the child, in which he is able to express himself freely. She usually confers with the child's parents, teachers and others who play important roles in his life. If, as a result of these contacts, she finds that certain changes in the child's environment might help him, she makes the appropriate suggestions, then keeps in touch with parents and teachers in order to learn the effectiveness of changes which have been made.

She continues to see the child at regular intervals, for as long as he needs, or appears able to benefit from, such help, trying to give him the unhurried attention and freedom to be himself which are conducive to his realistic self-appraisal. Frequently, she discusses with him the nature of his difficulties, helps him to evaluate the results of his reactions to them, and encourages him to think, in terms of his personal limitations and assets, of better solutions to his problems.

IF, BECAUSE of immaturity or excessive inhibition, a child is unable to talk directly about himself and his conflicts, he can usually be encouraged to "talk" about them through the media of clay, paint, or other play materials. In addition to receiving security from the knowledge that the counselor understands without censure the feelings which he is expressing, he also obtains release from tension by thus giving vent to pent-up emotions.

THIS TOO WILL PASS
Many years ago, according to legend, an Egyptian king is said to have called together his wisemen and offered a fabulous reward for one single statement that might apply to ALL THINGS AND ALL BEINGS. One bearded sage from a desert province astonished his king by immediately replying, "Oh, Noble Sire, the sentence of truth you seek is "THIS TOO WILL PASS."

We've had quite a time here at the office trying to find something animate or inanimate that these words of wisdom would not apply to, and so far we haven't been very successful (except for the 8:52 to Chicago one cold day last week.)

It would seem that the seer's words might be a lot of comfort to some folks. For example, to the mothers of sons called, or to be called, into the armed forces in these troublesome and uncertain times.

Also, by embracing the wiseman's philosophy we would hear a lot less muttering and side remarks about Washington as the March 15th Tax deadline draws nearer.

In the past years we've been guilty of helping a lot of wonderful folks pass from our community to different cities, but we've helped a lot of others to find homes in our favorite suburban area. We are fortunate in our business to have sort of a ringside seat in watching the older things pass and the community constantly improve — a new library and telephone exchange in Arlington Heights — a dandy new shopping center in Mt. Prospect — a new business block in Palatine — several new and beautiful churches.

Undoubtedly most of us have perplexing thoughts, worries and pet peeves, but maybe we ought to regard it like all that snow on the driveway this year and just sit back and say, "THIS TOO WILL PASS."

1951 United Protestant fellowship dinner

REV. WALTER GANT

The Fellowship dinner to be held Tuesday, February 13, at the First Congregational church of Des Plaines by the Council of Church Women and Greater Chicago Churchmen of the Northwest Suburban area, will announce the Chicago Federation's 1951 United Protestant Appeal.

Rev. Walter Gant, psychiatric case worker for the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, will present material on the work of the Boy's Court Service. He will tell how this service, as an important part of the federation's program, has attempted to be an expression of cooperative Protestantism in the field of delinquency.

Rosa Page Welch, famed mezzo soprano and goodwill ambassador will appear on the program of this fellowship dinner. In her work as "ambassador of goodwill" in inter-racial relations, Mrs. Welch has sung before youth groups and adults throughout the land in addition to special work in religious education at the University of Chicago.

The evening meal will be served by the Woman's Fellowship of the host church at 6:30 p. m., and everyone is invited to attend, especially interested church men and women in the Northwest suburban area. No tickets are being sold, but a free-will offering will be taken to defray the cost of the evening meal.

Mrs. Joseph M. Throckmorton and Wendell W. Unfer, both of Des Plaines, are the Northwest Suburban Area co-chairmen guiding the 1951 United Protestant Appeal which is starting with the Fellowship Dinner.

Eight boys from Arlington Hts. township high school, accompanied by R. M. Conrad, attended a luncheon meeting of the Executives' Club of Chicago at the Morrison hotel February 2 as guests of Charles Knapp.

The boys making the trip were Louis Barkhausen, Mark Creviston, Rick Hull, Warren Lattoff, Dick Lull, Dick McAuliffe, Bob Meeker and Bob Runyan. The speaker was Representative Walter H. Judd from Minnesota, famous lecturer and former medical missionary to China.

Dr. Judd talked to the group on the present world situation with special reference to Korea and China. He brought out the fact that Europe is a highly industrialized workshop but doesn't have enough natural resources to support the industries. Thus it is necessary for us to help China, not because we admire its principles of government, but because our own safety demands a friendly China in that we can't afford to have its powerful natural resources and its immense manpower turned against us.

Last week Charles Knapp Jr. and H. L. Slichenmyer attended the meeting and were privileged to hear Senator Taft who discussed current events relative to both domestic and foreign affairs.

At convention

Veterinarians from throughout Illinois assembled in Chicago January 30-February 1 for the largest convention of this state's practitioners ever held. Registration totaled more than 700.

Attending from Arlington Hts. was Dr. A. J. Prasniker.

Participation in the national emergency planning program divided attention with problems of human and animal health in the three days' deliberations of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association, holding its sixtieth annual convention.

Mother's club marks tenth anniversary

A pot-luck supper Friday night will mark the tenth anniversary of the St. Peter Lutheran Mother's club of Arlington Heights. The members will entertain their husbands and supper will be served at 6:30 p. m.

A history of the Mother's club activities for the past 10 years will be given. Professor Siegfert Becker of Concordia Teacher's college, River Forest, will be the guest speaker.

ONE OF THE biggest projects of the Mother's club is the hot lunch program, which they started at the school five years ago. They have worked up to a point where they now serve lunches daily to 200-220 students. The mothers take turns helping in the kitchen, which needs five mothers a day to keep it operating smoothly. The volunteer mothers work one day every four weeks.

Mrs. Margaret Clausen is chairman of the lunch program and she is assisted by a buyer, two menu planners and a secretary and treasurer. Each hot lunch costs the students 20 cents, and it consists of a serving of meat, fresh vegetables, raw vegetables, fruit, bread, butter, and milk. Government surplus food enables them to keep the price at this low mark.

Funds for buying kitchen equipment and to help with current expenses are raised each year at a smorgasbord held in September. Mrs. Floyd Burns is president of the Mother's club.

Schooling important for young men destined for military service

John Schaff, H. L. Siichenmyer and T. C. Seiler, of the teaching staff of Arlington Hts. township high school, attended a conference February 2 at Northwestern university concerning the military service situation as it affects and is likely to affect high school and college youths.

Educators from the Chicago area were present to listen to Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Director of Selective Service for the State of Illinois; Commander J. N. McDonald, head of Officer Candidate Training Section, Bureau of Naval Personnel; Lt. Col. G. M. Bachrach, Office of Executive for Reserve and R. O. T. C. Affairs; L. E. Hedburg, Special Adviser to the Special Assistant to Chief of Staff for Reserve Forces, U. S. Air Force; and Commander R. B. Lowe, Head of School Relations section of Navy Recruiting Services.

The intent of the meeting was to give school personnel some basis on which to counsel their students regarding their future plans and the prospect of military service. The consensus of opinion was that the United States is in for a long period in which military service will be required of all young men. However, all speakers stressed and urged that young men stay in school as long as possible in order to become better trained to serve their country in the armed forces and also in order to improve their chances for success and advancement in the services.

Summit Mountain Resort atop Mt. Summit in the Allegheny mountains of southwestern Pennsylvania.

Those going on the trip from Alpha Eta Chapter are Dorothy Findall, Joyce Becker, Ruth Stobe and Donna Waffle from Des Plaines, and Jean Jeuck from Mt. Prospect.

FAVORITES

For FLAVOR

by MARILYN McLENNAN

Have a heart, sweethearts. Prepare a special treat for your valentine, invite your favorite friends and have a gay party on lover's day.

How about this menu for a luncheon or evening party.

Lover's Loaf
(sandwich loaf)
Fresh Fruit Salad in Lettuce Cup with Honey Dressing
Pink Meringue Hearts ala mode with Frozen Strawberries
Coffee

To prepare the loaf use sandwich loaf bread cut in four slices lengthwise. If you cannot get the sandwich bread, purchase a 1 1/2 pound loaf of white bread, unsliced. Trim crust and cut into four even slices lengthwise. Spread layers with your favorite combination of fillings. We suggest fillings of ham salad, whipped cream cheese with chives and egg salad.

Here's an egg salad filling you'll favor. It's a favorite of Bernice Lacinia of 108 S. Vail, Arlington Heights.

Egg Salad Filling
6 hard cooked eggs
1 piece canned pimento
3 slices bacon, fried crisp
2 small sweet pickles
1 small onion

Put all through a food chopper. Mix lightly with a fork, adding enough mayonnaise to hold together.

Frost sides and top of sandwich loaf with one large package and two (3 oz.) packages of cream cheese, mixed with cream and whipped to fluffy stage. To decorate make an outline of two overlapping hearts with slices of stuffed olives. Spear them with a long green pepper strip.

Shape the meringues into pretty hearts using a pastry bag or tube. A homemade cone made of several thicknesses of waxed paper will do. The meringues are handsome tinted a delicate pink with a drop of red food coloring. Add a generous scoop of vanilla ice cream plus a saucing of frozen strawberries.

Hearts Meringue Shells
4 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup granulated sugar
Red food coloring
Combine egg whites, salt and cream of tartar and beat until stiff, gradually beat in sugar, sprinkling 2 tablespoons at a time over the surface, and continue beating until stiff and peaked. Add a few drops of red food coloring to tint a delicate pink, blending well. With pastry bag or spoon, shape into six heart shaped molds on brown wrapping paper. Bake in a very slow oven, 250 degrees, for one hour. Remove from paper while warm. Cool and fill with ice cream and garnish with sauce from strawberries.

Filling Cream Puffs

A cake decorator is perhaps the handiest tool with which to fill cream puffs. After filling the decorator, insert the point of the tube into the side of the cream puff, and force the filling into the puff, thus filling every crevice.

A Friend In Need

Your neighborhood drug store is a real American tradition. It symbolizes the national spirit of friendliness and cooperation. It is the place you go when you need professional prescription service in times of illness and worry.

At all times your druggist responds with a service that you cannot get elsewhere. This includes prescriptions which are compounded with the aid of years of education and training. It includes emergency service, long hours and Sunday openings. Prescriptions alone cannot entirely pay for all the service you get at your pharmacy. Therefore, your druggist makes available many nationally known products for better everyday living. Most of these are items that have become popular through the service of druggists and are fair traded so that they cannot be bought at less cost anywhere. Patronize your neighborhood druggists.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

There isn't anything much more universal appeal than a healthy baby, and there isn't anything that gives a woman more confidence than a well-trained doctor to deliver that baby. It is to help with this double-barreled problem—seeing that physicians have the best training and babies born to underprivileged families have the best start—that the Chicago Maternity center is making its annual drive for funds.

This is the first year that the campaign has extended to the Arlington area, and while no general solicitation will be made, interested people are invited to contact the chairman, Mrs. Donald H. Shaw, Arlington Heights 3327-33, or any member of her committee: Mrs. Fred A. Clark, Mrs. Edward W. Crofoot, Mrs. A. H. Franzen, Mrs. L. Norman Hawkey, Mrs. John A. Lindstrom, Jr., Miss Marguerite Moodie, Mrs. Douglas S. Smith, Mrs. Robert M. Wallace, or Mrs. Carlton A. Palmer of Mt. Prospect.

The Maternity center, the largest project of its kind, operates on the near South side of Chicago in a generally underprivileged area, but has not refused a call no matter where it came from. It enjoys a remarkable record of low infant and maternal mortality—and this in a situation in which virtually all deliveries are made at home—under far from advantageous conditions.

Of equal importance with the services offered is the training doctors receive. Deliveries are made at patients' homes by a team of experienced men and women consisting of obstetricians, residents, interns and nurses.

Under a cooperative agreement, all senior medical students of Northwestern university, University of Wisconsin and Chicago Medical college spend two weeks in training at the center. A residential program offers a rotating four-year residence in obstetrics and gynecology at Wesley Memorial hospital and the Maternity center.

As the chairman, Mrs. Shaw, puts it, what better cause is there than a healthy baby?

Something for the boys

The members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club are doing something for the boys this Friday night—their own boys, their husbands. In the annual men's night program which will begin at 8:30 p.m. at the field house a program of unusual appeal to the men has been planned.

Consisting of square dancing and card games, the program will offer entertainment to those who just want to relax.

Bishop, husband of one of the club members, will do the calling. And, of course, the ladies

Friendship Chapter Night

Des Plaines Women of the Moose, Chapter 835, will hold Friendship Chapter Night tonight, Thursday, at 8:30 p. m. Sarah Dahl, member of the Grand Council of Women of the Moose, will be guest speaker, and Louise Maw of Highland Park will preside as senior regent. Nina Peterson will entertain with songs and a guitar.

Plans are under way for a gala Valentine Dance to be held February 17. Tickets are available from Mrs. E. Crowcroft of Park Ridge and Mesdames M. Culley and L. Burnard of Des Plaines.

The chapter received an invitation to attend College of Regents Night at Greater Chicago Chapter 129 on February 5. Mrs. J. Dettlo, graduate regent of Chapter 835 and member of the College of Regents, presided as guest officer. Other members of Chapter 835 who attended were: Mesdames J. Dettlo, W. Eigenbrod, E. Rypkema and L. Peterson.

Sixteen members of the chapter toured the Olson Rug Co. January 30. The group received an oval reversible rug and three shag rugs.

Christened recently

Beverly Ann Nordstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Nordstrom of Arlington Crest, was christened January 28 by Rev. Irion at Long Grove church.

Sponsors were Mrs. Victor Hanson and Stanley Nordstrom, aunt and uncle of the baby. A family dinner was held following the baptism.

The second project, the work of which is done mainly by the boys themselves, is the new schedule of waste paper pickups. The pickups begin this month and will be made one Saturday each month. The boys feel that they are helping local people as well as themselves with this project and invite every one to clear out their basements each time they come around. Papers, magazines and similar items will be picked up from the curb.

Help plan all-conference dance to be held in April

Charles Anderson, president of the Student Senate of Arlington Heights township high school, Marilyn Franke, secretary of the senate, and Miss Hazel Beverly, faculty co-adviser, attended a meeting at Hinsdale township high school February 6 to help formulate plans for the All-Conference Dance to be held April 27.

Schools which will be invited to attend the dance include the eight schools of the West Suburban Conference—Lyons Township (LaGrange), Maine Township (Des Plaines and Park Ridge), Riverside—Brookfield, Hinsdale Township, Downers Grove, York Community (Elmhurst), Glenbard (Glen Ellyn and Lombard), and Arlington Hts.

Students made plans for the general arrangements for the dance including hours, place, price, and number of tickets. The presidents and secretaries of all Student Senates in the West Suburban Conference were included in the meeting. Following the discussions, the group was taken on a tour of the new addition to the high school, including the new gymnasium.

Red Cross organize two classes here

Two first aid instructor courses will be offered in Arlington Hts. to qualify needed instructors as part of the Red Cross civil defense preparedness program.

These courses are being scheduled by the Red Cross in the city and suburban areas in order to increase its volunteer teaching staff to meet the needs of the civilian defense program. Gov. Adlai Stevenson recently urged that at least one adult member of every family take Red Cross first aid training as a self-help measure in case of an emergency.

THE FIRST CLASS opened at the Arlington Heights field house February 6 from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. to train Girl Scout leaders as Red Cross first aid instructors. They in turn will teach Girl Scouts Red Cross first aid.

The instructors class was set up in cooperation with Forrest Davis, general chairman of the Arlington Heights Red Cross committee, and Mrs. O. K. List, who represents the Girl Scout groups. Only 18 persons are enrolled in this course, according to Mr. Davis. Those who wish to enter this class may do so Tuesday, February 13, at the field house at 7:30 p. m. Twenty more persons can easily be accommodated.

SCHOOL TEACHERS in Arlington Heights will attend the second Red Cross first aid instructor course opening February 14, 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. in the cafeteria of Arlington Heights high school. On completion of the course the teachers will instruct the children of the community in Red Cross first aid.

It is estimated that at least 100,000 students in the Chicago area will receive training in Red Cross standard first aid which is recommended by civil defense and public health officials.

Area Educators to meet tonight, Thursday

The Arlington Area Educators' Council will hold its February meeting February 8, at 7:30 at the North school in Arlington Heights.

Discussion will center around plans for the Illinois Education Association Conference at New Trier this spring which will be

Tests aid students in planning future careers

Students at Arlington Heights township high school have been taking a series of tests which will aid them in determining their abilities and their aptitudes for various occupations and professions.

February 6, all students who wished to avail themselves of the opportunity, were given the tests of the Career Planning Council of America. The five sections cover tests on mental abilities, mental health liabilities, mental health assets, personality, and occupational temperament.

A COMPLETE and detailed report will be sent to each student taking the test. For an extra fee, a special service is offered to seniors, who with their parents may have private consultations and receive specific vocational and career planning recommendations from the staff of members of the council.

In addition to the Career Planning Council tests, upperclassmen have taken a series of co-operative tests of the type which are often given as college entrance examinations. All college preparatory students have taken the test of the American Council on Education, Psychological Examination for College Freshmen.

In addition, general proficiency tests in the fields of English and mathematics have been given. In the near future it is planned to give the general proficiency tests in the field of social and natural science and to give the co-operative contemporary affairs tests for college students to members of the high school sociology and economics classes.

Herald reporter was not in disguise

Seldom has an editorial in this paper created such a furor as "Teen Age Drinking" published January 19.

The purpose of the article was to awaken the town to a condition that many people now deny ever existed. The reporter did his investigation in good faith. He collected the evidence which was not turned over to the local authorities for the reason as published in the issue of Jan. 25.

The Fence Post has contained contributions approving the publication and also others that severely criticized the publicity. The incident is closed so far as this paper and the Fence Post is concerned.

However the reporter who made the investigation deserves a vindication of certain charges made against him. Regardless of accusations to the contrary, he did not disguise himself in order to buy liquor. He made his investigation in good faith and had no ulterior motives in reporting his findings.

Paddock Publications has received many phone calls praising the publication of the article in question and still believes that its publication was beneficial.

arranged by the local chapter. Officers of the council are Robert Kemman, president; Albert Wangles, vice-president; Joan Barry, secretary; Ruth Paulus, treasurer.

These tests, students learn how they stack up in relation to other high school students in other cities and gain a pretty good idea of just what their skills, aptitudes, and abilities really are.

Long-term Investment that pays daily dividends

THESE days thoughtful people turn their minds to the durability of things they purchase.

But it's rare when doing your duty turns out to be the best way to satisfy your heart's desire.

That's what's so marvelous about this '51 Buick.

If you picked a car just for the lift it gives you—your pride in its power—or its generous comfort—you couldn't make a better choice.

But make note of this:

That gleaming new push-bar forefront, which greets your eye with flashing beauty, contains 25 grille bars made of stamped steel, individually mounted to "give" and come back unharmed. Combined with a massive, wrap-around bumper, fortified by two stalwart "bumper bombs" and two added uprights, it gives unsurpassed protection.

Springs of stout spiraled steel on all four wheels let your wheels curtsy over bumps, while you ride level as a lance. But they also need no servicing, and breakage is virtually unknown.

Buick's great-powered engine is a Fireball, wondrously lively and eager at the mere touch of your toe—but it also wrings extra power from every drop of fuel, and has the mechanical perfection that comes only from years of experience with this basic design.

Dynaflow Drive gives you effortless smoothness of control—but it also eliminates clutch repair bills, saves tires, eases strain on the whole driving mechanism, from engine to differential.

The road-steady gait of a Buick assures relaxed security—and is also evidence that you have a durable, deep-silled, X-braced frame beneath you. However you check it, you'll discover this: The things that make you yearn for a Buick on first acquaintance, are the very same things that make Buick such a smart long-time buy.

Better see your Buick dealer—soon.

"Rocky Mountain blizzards couldn't stop me!"

says JACK W. SEEFELD
3030 Vrain St. Denver 12, Colorado

The two winters I tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil—as one of a group picked to prove its winter wear-fighting ability—we had the worst weather in years. Blizzards came in on top of blizzards. The temperature went to the bottom and stayed there.

"BUT MY CAR ACTED LIKE IT THOUGHT IT WAS JULY!" With new Conoco Super that car performed better than it ever had. At the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was practically as good as at the beginning.

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Seefeld and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to Conoco Super, now.

ARLINGTON AT MOOSEHEART FRIDAY; BISONS HOST TO ELA

Set Barrington date with Cards for February 19

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington Heights varsity cagers, with three victories in their last four games, will be out to garner another win Friday night when they journey to Mooseheart to meet the Child City five. Saturday night's Arlington game with Barrington has been postponed 'til Monday, February 19.

The Mooseheart double bill will start at 7 p. m., fans are warned, instead of the usual 7:15 time.

Coach Gene Bell's cagers have yet to lose to Mooseheart, either in the varsity or frosh-soph divisions. The varsity has won twice, 39-28 and 42-34, while the yearlings have emerged victorious, 35-30 and 30-29.

THIS YEAR Arlington appears to be gaining top form just in the way in that tourney, and could win again Friday night. Their play has improved and with further experience in the remaining four games with Mooseheart, DeKalb, Barrington and Palatine, should be ripe for the regional at Barrington.

Arlington plays Grayslake, by the way, in that tourney, and will face either Palatine or Wauconda if they win. If again successful they'll undoubtedly face Barrington in the finals. The February 19 contest at Heights will be a sneak preview of the tourney final.

Arlington fans can best travel to Mooseheart by crossing Fox river at Elgin, then driving south on route 31 to the Child City.

Palatine bowlers roll 2993 for lead at Elgin

Fred's Place team of Palatine knocked off first place in the first week end of bowling in the Elgin Bowling Association tournament with a 2993 series at Bowlway recreation. Singles and doubles events are also being held in Elgin, but at Schneider's recreation.

Prizes totaling $3076 will be split among the teams and individuals participating who complete the affair in the money. In distribution of prize money, 34 five-man teams will split $1310 according to their standing in the standings by the tournament's conclusion. Double bowlers (50) will share $772 and 102 prizes will be split worth $750. In addition 27 places of the all-event handicap list will end in prize money, of which $244 has been allotted.

THERE ARE 131 five-man teams entered in the tournament. Last Saturday night and emerged triumphantly over DePaul even more than the 94-60 score indicates. It wasn't the size of the score but the manner in which the tiny Wisconsin school handled the ball that decided the contest.

Unusual features of the game included the missing horn on Govedarica's fifth foul until another DePaul bucket had been scored, a "stopped ball" atop the rim, a badly outplayed DePaul pair literally fighting each other for the ball, a record college high of 94 points, and a 13,000 crowd which stayed to the end in spite of a 30 point margin against the home team.

Palatine will be better next season

Little Hebron with 80 students in high school has one of the best basketball teams in the Chicago area but may be even stronger next year. Coach Russ Ahearn has only two seniors on his squad of eight boys which has lost only once this season. Hebron has a season shooting percentage of 41.7 and had a high average last week at Marquette of 61.7. They have averaged 65 points a game.

Ahearn has in Bill Shultz, sophomore center, the tallest player in the suburbs standing six feet nine and a very active guard for a tall one. Paul and Phil Judson, twin brothers of Howie Judson the former Illinois cage star, are at present a pitcher for the Chicago White Sox. Hebron has a season shooting percentage of 41.7 and had a high average last week at Marquette of 61.7. They have averaged 65 points a game.

February 12, 1936 — Stanley Ketchel and Montana Jack Sullivan boxed 20-round draw Feb. 12.

February 13, 1938 — Charles Lausche and Frank Franz at Cleveland set ABC 2 man, three game record of 1494 pins.

February 14, 1932 — ABC individual all-events title won by Frank Benkovic of Milwaukee. Total for nine games, 2259 points (231 ave.).

February 15, 1948 — Canada's Barbara Scott wins figure skating title, becomes world sensation in meet at Switzerland.

Mac Says-

by G. A. McELROY

Palatine and Arlington Heights got a break in the regional tournament according to the way we see it. Palatine was rated fourth and Northbrook fifth. The fifth rated team plays number one Barrington. We had, rather expected Palatine to get the fifth spot instead of Northbrook who by a coincidence just beat Palatine the day before we got the regional pairings.

Arlington might be surprise of tourney

It is a break for Arlington to be rated second instead of third and thus get into a different bracket than Barrington. It looks very much like Barrington and Arlington in the finals. We think that Arlington is the only team with even an outside chance of stopping the Bronchos. Coach Bell's boys are coming up as tournament time approaches. They just had a very good week end beating Beardmore and Crystal Lake and may be at their peak for the tourney. They will need to be to outscore the Barrington team.

Bronchos hope to prove defeat at Northbrook was just a fluke

Top game of the week in this section is Northbrook at Barrington. The Vikings beat Barrington, 62-60, at Northbrook early in the season, jolting the Bronchos into a winning streak which has now reached 14 straight. Also the same teams open the regional tournament a little more than two weeks later.

If Barrington wins Friday as expected they will clinch their third straight conference championship. Last week Northbrook took over undisputed possession of second place by beating Palatine and a victory over Barrington would clinch that spot. There is no question but that the game should be a sell out.

Steve Roake named to All-America prep team

Steve Roake of Barrington gained a great and unexpected honor last week by being named to the all-America high school football first team at end. Roake was the only football player in Illinois named to the first team. A lad from Pekin made the third team. Members of the first seven teams picked will be divided into East and West squads and play a game next summer, if the boys are not already taken into the armed forces.

The persons who named Roake never saw him play football but the great amount of publicity this boy received helped his cause. We will say that we did not read anything in the press about Roake which was not true, and we feel he was most deserving of this unusual honor.

Beloit carries banner of small colleges

Little, 1060-student Beloit college carried the banner of small schools into the Chicago Stadium Saturday night and emerged triumphantly over DePaul even more than the 94-60 score indicates. It wasn't the size of the score but the manner in which the tiny Wisconsin school handled the ball that decided the contest.

Unusual features of the game included the missing horn on Govedarica's fifth foul until another DePaul bucket had been scored, a "stopped ball" atop the rim, a badly outplayed DePaul pair literally fighting each other for the ball, a record college high of 94 points, and a 13,000 crowd which stayed to the end in spite of a 30 point margin against the home team.

He wants title

The fans went wild last Saturday night in the Crystal Lake gym where in the last thirty seconds of play the Arlington varsity quintet turned a two-point deficit into a hair raising two point victory, 42-40. A stolen ball and a beautiful lay up by Paul Roche, followed by a rebound by Bob Fasic after a Tiger field goal attempt with ten seconds remaining, plus a breath taking 25 foot set shot by Bob Evans, all combined in the last half minute to set the spectators on the edge of their seats and give Arlington another victory.

This win spelled out revenge on the locals' part, for Crystal Lake had already trounced the Red Birds on the local floor this season. It also made it possible for the Cards to experience their only defeatless double week end to date.

IT WAS a tight race in all the statistical departments, with Arlington edging the Lakers in field goals, 16-15, and collecting only 15 personals compared to the Tigers' 19, while they split fifty-fifty in the charity toss department with 10 apiece. Bob Evans, whose final two-second shot sealed the lid on the locals' victory, grasped the scoring spotlight with 17 markers, leaving Jack Clark, Jay Vawter, Don Larson, and Paul Roche to trail with 8, 5, 5, and 4 tallies respectively.

Bob Fasic again displayed his ability on defense and as an all around floor man for the locals' cause. A trio of Lakers, John Sayles, Bill Peterson and Jack Peterson, did the honors in the Tigers' scoring column with 9, 10, and 11 counters respectively.

It was a stiff local defense that placed their opponents on the short end of an 11-3 count the opening frame, and an effective offense that kept the Red Birds in the running.

Following period for a 25-20 mid-way lead, Evans, Clark, Roche, and Vawter emerged the top scoring contributors for the Cards in the first half.

CRYSTAL LAKE made it tough sledding when they battled their way to a 32-31 lead in a blistering 12-6 third segment.

Evans' 25-foot set shot gives Cards 42-40 win

Cardinals take the 'T' out of terrific and beat Belvidere

by RON PRELLBERG

The Belvidere Bucs met with the surprise of their 1950-51 cage schedule when the definitely under-rated Cardinal varsity aggregation slashed at the visitors' offense and defense until a 39-32 victory was piled up for the Arlington Heights Red Birds last Friday night in the local gym. It appeared as if the Red Birds had thrown a web around the Belvidere quintet's offense that couldn't be penetrated, for the Bucs high tallying expert, Ed Fidler, emerged with just nine counters.

Jack Clark and Bob Fasick were two of the main Arlington defensive obstacles by holding a pair of Belvidere flashes, Paul Tamanauskas and Ray DeWane, to a mere three and six markers respectively, while Coach Bell's other charges put the Bucs' excessive height to a disadvantage.

THE CARDS, underdogs to the so-called "terrific" Belvidere outfit, showed spirit and determination every minute that aided them in excelling defensively and offensively. Especially through the good ball handling and shooting of Arlington's two consistent contributors to the scoring column, Bob Evans and Jack Clark, who notched 11 apiece for the evening, were the locals able to defeat their opponents. The remainder of AHTHS's tallying chores fell in to the laps of Jay Vawter, Bob

Card frosh top Crystal Lake but lose to Maine

Arlington Heights freshman basketball team lost to Maine Saturday morning, 50-30, but severely trounced Crystal Lake Monday, 41-17. This gives Coach James Thom's aggregation a 6-5 record with three more games to go.

A 17-4 third period saw the end of Arlington's chances at Maine Saturday, when the Card yearlings had come up to within six points of the winners at halftime.

High for Arlington was Roger Thomas with ten scores. Behind him were Dave Ryden with 8, Dick Hauff with 6, Bob Turner with 4, and Bob Frisk with 2. Others seeing action were Carroll Werner, Bob Dotts, Mike Shanklin and George Skelton.

For Maine Kellogg tallied 20, Iverson 12, Hatfield 11, Olson 3, Whiteman 2 and Kunz 2.

MONDAY AFTERNOON the Heights frosh won all the way after a 12-10 opening quarter at Crystal Lake. The victory made it a clean sweep for the young Cardinals, having a 6-4-0 record over the same squad December 18.

Leading the bucket brigade for Arlington were Bob Turner 12, Dick Winterbauer 10, Carroll Werner 5, Dick Hauff 5, George Skelton 4, Roger Thomas 3, Bob Dotts 2. Others seeing action for Heights were Bob Frisk, Dave Ryden and Mike Shanklin.

For Crystal Lake it was Johnson 5, Karbonek 4, Edwards 3, Otto 3 and Parrish 2. Arlington led 21-14 at the half, and 28-14 going into the home stretch.

Palatine frosh down Antioch

Palatine freshmen won their third game in nine starts Tuesday, beating Antioch, 30-29. Harry Burtzlauff scored 11 points, "Whitey" Kolze 10, and Ronnie Voreyer got nine for Palatine.

Fight preliminary

Danny (Bang Bang) Womber, the Chicago welterweight, has signed to battle Charlie Cotton in a six round preliminary bout on the Jake LaMotta-Sugar Ray Robinson card Feb. 14 at the Chicago Stadium.

Womber won his last Stadium fight Nov. 8 when he defeated Bud Smith in an eight rounder. Cotton, also a Chicago fighter, lost a disputed decision to George Sherman in a grueling 10 rounder at the Stadium on Jan. 24.

Forecast no valentines February 14 at Stadium in La Motta - Robinson battle

It may be Valentine's Day on the calendar Wednesday of next week but at the Chicago Stadium it will be just the opposite—Jake LaMotta will meet Sugar Ray Robinson in the middleweight title bout.

Both LaMotta, the current 160 pound champion, and Robinson reported to the commission Wednesday for their pre-fight physical examination. The rest of the week is being spent in sparring and road work. Both fighters were slated to work at Issy Kline's Midwest Gym.

Although Robinson has beaten LaMotta four times out of five, his chances against Jake this time are diminished by the fact that the title is at stake and there is no prouder champion in the ring than Mr. LaMotta.

LaMotta will have an extra advantage at the 15 round championship limit since he will outweigh Sugar by at least six pounds. Jake has always been known to have that extra something when he proved against Laurent Dauthuille in Detroit last fall that he had the money punch when it counted. In that one Jake KO'd Dauthuille with only 15 seconds left of the fight. Robinson seemed as cool as a cucumber when he fought a four round preliminary during the commission negotiations. "What's all the noise about? I beat this guy four times. I might as well do it now and get the title. It's just another fight as far as I'm concerned."

'Sweet William' Bill Wille proves too rough for foes with 63 fouls in 13 games

Arlington Heights high school junior-varsity cage five traveled to Maine Saturday morning, but didn't open their eyes soon enough, finding themselves on the short end of an 18-8 tally the opening period. From then on it was a contest with 8-5, 9-7 and 4-8 margins prevailing, and a 38-29 tally prevailing at the end of the contest.

Arlington scoring: Ronnie Grace 12, Bill Klink 7, LeRoy Fredericks 5, Bob Chamberlain 4 and Dick Tang 1. Others playing for Coach Bell were Mike Theis, Jim Blackburn and Itchy Carlson.

For Maine it was Peterson 19, Weidner 12, French 4 and Gerard 3. The loss was the third for Arlington against no wins. Next contest for the J-Vs is this Saturday morning when they entertain Maine.

'Haywire' had beginning in old logging camps

Research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia have discovered how the term "haywire" came to mean something that's all in a mess.

The word seems to have first become popular in the logging camps of the North Woods. Many of these camps were located in out-of-the-way places. The tenners would keep the wire from the bales of hay to mend quickly a broken hame-strap or put a link in a broken chain, thereby saving time that would have to be spent traveling to a town for repairs.

Cooks would string haywire above the stove to dry clothes and hang ladies up—and often use it to bind the stove together. In time, a camp that was notoriously poor in its equipment, and seemed to be held together by wire from hay bales, was called a "haywire" camp. From this usage the term came to mean "broken," "sick," "crazy," and a score of other things, none of them praiseworthy.

The term now commonly means "mixed up"—like a pile of haywire after it's been removed from the bales.

Jewels of the Deep at Outdoors show

Thousands of dollars worth of unbelievable and exotic fish collected from the far corners of the earth will be on exhibition at the "Jewels of the Deep" Show at Navy Pier, February 16 through 25.

Featured in the display are astounding Sea Horses, Scorpion fish, the deadly Leaf fish, Siamese Fighting Fish, the rare Discus fish and the amorous Kissing Gouramis, among many others. But the star of the exhibit is the savage Piranhas from the Amazon river of South America.

Although the Piranhas rarely reaches a length of two feet, they will attack and devour any disabled or soft bodied creature regardless of size or strength. Traveling in large schools, the Piranhas, when driven wild by the smell and taste of blood, will strip large animals and humans to skeletons by sheer weight of numbers in a matter of minutes.

Deer Hunting

Accidents often happen because a hunter has just shot at a deer or other game and seeing the bushes move he pulls the trigger before positively identifying his target. Always be certain that it is game you're shooting at—even when you're in the heat of the chase. One man's life is far more valuable than all the game that might get away.

Also his tendency to foul should decrease. Bill has the somewhat dubious distinction of committing 63 violations out of a possible total of 65 for thirteen games. And of those thirteen games, the hustling junior has finished only two without the maximum number of infractions being marked against him.

Off the court, Wille — nicknamed "Sweet William" by his teammates—is a quiet, friendly

St. James Mother's club to hear John Shaffer today

St. James Mothers' Club of Arlington Heights will have John Shaffer from the Association for Family Living as its guest speaker at their February meeting. Mr. Shaffer's topic will be "Discipline for the Grade School Child."

The meeting will be held today, Thursday, at 1 p. m. at the field house.

Few contagious diseases in Arlington during 1950

The annual health report for the village of Arlington Heights, submitted by Augustine Lippold, health officer, was read at Monday night's village board meeting.

During the year the following contagious diseases were reported: 1 measles; 1 scarlet fever; 1 mumps; 14 chicken pox; 3 whooping cough; and 1 pneumonia. The report also told of three complaints of a poor heating system; 1 odor from sewer; 4 dog bites; and three unsanitary conditions due to garbage.

Why Water "Holds" Curls

Why does water, put on the hair when setting it, make it curl more than when it is put up dry? Hair is something like a plastic material, and it will take up moisture. The water enters into a chemical combination with the material of which the hair is made, and links together neighboring long molecules of which the hair is made. Thus, when moisture is present, it may hold the curl in position.

Canned Chicken

Laboratory tests by department of agriculture nutritionists indicate raw-pack canned chicken is superior to chicken canned by other methods.

Frosted Grain

The feeding value of frosted grain is about in proportion to the test weight of the

NEW NEIGHBORS IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Deibel
644 S. Newbury Place

Both veterans of World War II—he was a counter-intelligence and she a WAC in the ATC—Mr. and Mrs. Deibel have lived in Arlington Heights since last September. Their reason for moving here from Evanston is a simple one, they liked and also were fond of the location.

The Deibels are the parents of 21-months-old Paul and Mary Catherine, four months, and when asked about their hobbies, their answer was that raising two little ones took up just about all their time.

Mr. Deibel commutes to Chicago, where he is employed in the export division of the Weco Products company.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Isaacson
315 S. Evergreen

Bicycling, photography and record collecting are favorite hobbies of the Isaacsons, new neighbors since September. They used to be hostellers, and take cycle vacations and weekends.

New privately owned store opens in Arlington Thursday morning

Northsiders can do their shopping, starting Thursday morning, without crossing the railroad tracks. A Certified Store opens that day at 214 N. Dunton, former quarters of the National Tea.

The young men are experienced and are confident of their ability to give to Arlington housewives a friendly, privately owned food market. They ask that the week-end shoppers stop and "look them over."

There are many other Certified Stores in the Chicago area. They have a buying power that they say make possible selling prices that appeal to the price-wise buyer.

They're planning to start their little boy, Bobby, now 2½, in on a bike as soon as possible, and in the meantime they hope to rig a seat for him on theirs.

Mr. Isaacson is manager of accounts receivable, for International Business Machines, and the family formerly lived in Chicago. They have a three-bedroom brick ranch house is mighty fine, and they like the village a lot, too.

Mr. Isaacson has managed to get pretty well acquainted for he attends the Barbershop quartet meetings at the high school and also the Men's club.

Local educators to attend meetings in East February 10-22

Leroy J. Knoepfel, principal of Arlington Heights township high school, and R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Public elementary schools here, will attend educators' meetings in the East.

Mr. Knoepfel, accompanied by his wife, will leave this Friday for New York City. He will attend a National Secondary School Principals' meeting at the Commodore hotel from February 10 to 14. Mr. Clabaugh and his wife will leave February 13 for New York, where he will attend a Junior high school conference at New York university February 16 and 17.

The Knoepfels and Clabaughs plan to visit the United Nations building while in New York. Both educators will then go to Atlantic City to attend the annual American Association of School Administrators meeting, which begins February 18 and ends February 22. H. L. Slichenmyer, administrative assistant at Arlington high, will also attend the Atlantic City meeting.

Palatine man in collision at 53 and 64

Harold J. Hestry, a 20-year-old student who lives at 267 N. Smith st., Palatine, was the driver of the auto colliding with a truck at rtes. 53 and 64 Monday at 11:13 a. m. There were no injuries.

The DuPage county sheriff's office, Wheaton, says that Hestry was driving south on rte. 53 while the truck, being driven by Alfred Ill, 23, Harvey, was heading west on rte. 64. The condition of the road was listed as slippery.

Concert to highlight Junior high school band activities

Arlington Heights Elementary and Junior high school band, under the direction of Harold Brunt, will present a concert featuring numerous selections, soloists, and student directors this Friday evening, at 8 p. m. in the gymnasium of the South school.

Proceeds of the ticket sales will go toward defraying expenses of the band and toward the purchase of additional band equipment. Tickets will be sold by band members only, and cash prices will be given to those selling the greatest number of tickets for the concert. Admission will be forty cents for adults and twenty cents for students.

The 95 young musicians, ranging from fourth grade through eighth grade, sincerely hope that many adults will attend the concert to see and hear one phase of the musical education being offered to the Arlington Heights boys and girls. Although limited to two rehearsals a week, Mr. Brunt has organized an exceptionally fine band.

January 30 all 95 band members packed up their instruments and other equipment and took a short trip to Elk Grove where an hour's concert was presented to the boys and girls of the Elk Grove Public school. An exchange concert is also planned with the Junior high school in Des Plaines. The Arlington Hts. band will go to Des Plaines within the next few weeks, while the Des Plaines Junior high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Rosalind Wallach will give a concert in the local Junior high school Friday afternoon.

Plans are also underway to take the band to Hines hospital to give an outdoor concert for the veterans, possibly May 31.

Save yourself 40 miles a year...

Yes, it's true... the average homemaker walks 40 miles a year just carrying the weekly wash back and forth... not counting the stooping, hanging and pinning. When you have an automatic GAS clothes dryer you'll take just one step from your washer to the dryer... toss the clothes in... and take them out minutes later, fluffy and sweet-smelling.

TRIAL PURCHASE OFFER

Use an automatic GAS clothes dryer in your own home for 30 days. If, at the end of that period, you are not completely satisfied, let us know and we'll pick up the dryer and refund your down payment.

Of course, while you're saving steps, you're saving your energy, too. No more lifting and carrying those heavy, heavy baskets... no more moving clothes from sun to shade... or rescuing them from a sudden shower. Drying clothes is just two operations when you have an automatic GAS clothes dryer... put 'em in... take 'em out!

See the new automatic GAS clothes dryers at our nearest store or your dealer's.

Announcing... New DODGE "Job-Rated" Trucks

The trucks that do the most for you!

More powerful than ever! Dodge now offers you the most powerful "Job-Rated" trucks in Dodge history! Eight engines—94 to 154 horsepower—with power increases as high as 20%!

You get the right power for your job... in the finest performing trucks that ever carried the Dodge name! Yet these new Dodge "Job-Rated" Trucks are priced with the lowest!

NEW! Smarter styling! New beauty combined with massive, rugged appearance. New hood line for better visibility. Roomy new cab interiors in contrast to older models—new comfort with redesigned seats.

NEW! Easier handling! Shorter turning "radius" than ever before—for even greater maneuverability! More convenient steering wheel angle for greater driving comfort. New worm-and-roller steering gears for easier steering—plus all the ease-of-handling features that made Dodge "The Choice of Champions" in the 1950 National Truck Roadshow!

NEW! Extra-quiet brakes! Another Dodge engineering first! New, molded, tapered Cyclobond brake linings contact brake drums with smoother, more even action—practically eliminating brake squeal. Less tendency of brakes to "grab"—and lining life is greatly extended. Standard on trucks 1½-ton and up, except for air brake models.

- NEW! MORE ECONOMICAL PERFORMANCE with higher compression ratio—on all models through 1 ton.
- NEW! EASIER-TO-READ INSTRUMENTS—now grouped in a cluster placed in front of the driver.
- NEW! TWIN CARBURETION AND EXHAUST SYSTEM for greater power with economy—available on all high-tonnage models.
- NEW! SMOOTHER ENGINE IDLING with "hotter" spark plugs on all models through 1 ton.

A model to fit your job!

Northwestern announces speed-up courses for draft eligible students
As a result of the international crisis and the national emergency, Northwestern University announced a new policy of permitting freshmen to begin their college work in the summer session without waiting until fall.
Dr. Payson S. Wild, Jr., vice president and dean of faculties, explained that, beginning in June, entering first-year students may embark upon a program of university training immediately after graduation from high school.
Under the new Northwestern policy it would be possible for a student to complete a regular four-year course in three years by attending all summer school sessions during the three-year period.

Your Income Tax

by JOHN T. JARECKI

Each year after the filing period, it is necessary for the collector to recompute the tax liability of individuals who claim deductions which are not allowable because they are entirely personal, and as a result the taxpayer is required to pay interest as well as the additional tax because of their disallowance. A partial list of items which you may not claim as expense is given for your study.

Funeral and burial expenses. Cost of burial plot or vault. Wages paid to servants, nursemaids and baby sitters, even though such expense is incurred because it is necessary for you to go to work.

Carfare or train fare paid in going to and from work.

Expense of maintaining your automobile used in going to and from work, or for your personal and family use.

Cost of your lunches or suppers while working.

Carrying charges on purchases. Only part of what you pay when you are buying "on time" is interest, which must be stated separately to be deductible.

Gifts to family and friends.

Rents you pay for your living quarters.

Repairs and replacements on your personal residence.

Premiums on life insurance, on personal automobile or for insurance on your home.

Lawyer's fees (unless connected with your business).

Cost of moving from place to place.

Dues to fraternal or political organizations.

Repayment of principal on a loan or mortgage.

Special assessments on your property (these are additional cost of your property and you may claim them as such when you sell it).

Tuition, books and incidental expenses while attending school.

Water tax on your personal residence or quarters. This is not really a tax but a service charge for the use of water, and you may claim such expense only if you pay it for property which produces income.

Federal income taxes and penalties whether for delinquency, negligence or fraud. The interest you pay the government on any deficiency is deductible.

Loss of a ring, suitcase, etc., which you cannot prove was stolen.

Fines paid for violations of law.

Any amounts withheld from your salary or wages for pensions, annuities, social security and Federal old age benefit.

In these days of excessively high costs of living and acute shortage of rental quarters, many people, who never did so before, are renting rooms and small apartments to paying guests or tenants. Perhaps they do not realize that any excess income over their deductible expenses for maintaining these income-producing quarters is subject to Federal income tax. It is the purpose of this article to help these people and all who have rental property.

The allowance for depreciation is limited by law to business property and property held for the production of income. Therefore, no deduction is allowed for depreciation on a personal residence, an automobile used only for pleasure, on household goods or other personal effects.

If, however, an asset is used partly for business, such as a building, part of which is rented and part used as a personal residence, or an automobile used both for business and personal use, a proportionate part of the allowable depreciation sustained is deductible.

The most common depreciation method is the straight-line method. Under that method the amount which is recoverable through depreciation allowance is prorated evenly over the expected life of the property.

This method is used almost exclusively by average taxpayers because of its simplicity.

For example, a salesman buys an automobile to be used solely for business. His depreciation allowance under the straight-line method would be computed as follows:

Cost of car	$2,000.00
Expected life 4 years
Probably trade-in value	400.00
Amount to be recovered	$1,600.00
Annual depreciation	$1,600 divided by 4
	400.00

The first substantial unit of the system was put in operation in the company's southern division about two years ago, followed by similar installations in the Illinois Northern and Western United divisions last year.

FIXED transmitter stations in the new set-up, which will augment the company's present telephone communication facilities, have been installed at 22 strategically located spots throughout the area. Receiving sets already are installed in many trucks and service cars and when the installation is completed, a total of 338 vehicles will be equipped for sending and receiving messages.

Under the new system, according to Mr. Budd, the company expects to be able to maintain effective emergency communication between key operating points as well as in the field should an emergency arise such as the severe sleet storms of January 1, 1948 and February 13, 1950.

MANY RECALL the two storms which wiped out practically all communications between towns in the area and made it virtually impossible for the company to speedily dispatch repair crews to the many trouble points.

The system will speed restoration of electric or gas service following interruptions regardless of whether the cause is storm, accident, equipment failure, or some other trouble, he said.

ORDERS CAN be flashed from dispatchers to trouble crews through any of the 22 transmitting stations on a second's notice which will efficiently coordinate necessary work to be done during emergencies.

Separate frequencies are used—one for sending from the fixed transmitters and one for sending from the vehicles—in order to avoid jamming or overlapping of messages.

Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money

Women voters carried election for high school 36 years ago

Thirty-seven years ago, next month, March 28, 1914, the townships of Elk Grove and parts of Elk Grove township were in the throes of a violent campaign over the establishment of a township high school in Arlington Heights. Out of 1200 votes cast, the proposition carried by 16 votes. The women voters defeated the proposition by 47 votes. The women carried it by 63 votes.

Previous to that time instruction in high school subjects was given in the elementary school, now known as District 25. Files of Paddock Publications contained the pros and cons of the proposition. The opposition strength was largely among the farmers and the tax paying husbands of the women who voted "yes."

Some idea of the campaign can be gleaned from the following extracts from the campaign literature, taken from our files. The publicity committee which handled the campaign in favor of the project were W. B. Chapman, Theo. Militzer, O. R. Zoll, N. M. Banta, Geo. K. Volz and W. F. Meyer.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS

April 3, 1914. The township high school is the most important proposition ever brought before the people of this community and brought out the biggest vote even on a rainy day and muddy roads.

It was a simple ballot; still 17 persons mostly women didn't know how to vote. The township of Arlington Heights will boom and farms will increase in value as a result of a township high school.

SPECIMEN BALLOT

Arlington Heights High School District Election Saturday, April 25, 1914 Polling Place, Village Hall, Arlington Heights, Illinois. Polls open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. For president, Theodore Militzer.

For two members for one year, Herman Garmes, George Klehm Sr.

For two members for two years, W. E. Shira, George Busse, Alfred T. Chidley.

For two members for three years, William Kirchhoff, George K. Volz.

AGAINST HIGH SCHOOL

March 27, 1914. "Is it necessary that every boy and girl take a high school course in order to be successful in this life? Did George Washington, the father of our country, have anything more than an ordinary schooling? Did Abraham Lincoln have a high school education? Are there not hundreds of men who achieved great things and helped make our country great?"

and famous without having had a high school education?

"Education is all right; but is it necessary for every boy and girl to have it? We fear, we have too many already. As a rule people with a high school education will not use their muscles. It is here where the trouble lies today. The labor question is a burning one. How many want to do hard work and help till the soil? Everyone wants a soft job now-a-days. Can the world get along this way? We claim a man or woman can be a useful member of society and help produce the necessities of life without a high school education. Educated people are not always the best citizens. In our country a farmer, mechanic or day-laborer who uses his common sense with his muscle is recognized as a helpful member of society. They help produce while others only consume. We are in sore need of more producers in our growing country."

"Many of you may think it is a small and simple thing to build and maintain a high school here. But friends, let us consider it. If we vote to build a high school say for $60,000, we must pay $60,000. On a bond issue of $60,000 we must pay an annual interest of at least $3,000. For six or seven teachers at a salary of from $1,200 to $2,000 each a year, we must pay about $10,000 for every ten months of the year. Furthermore the high school pupils must be gathered up every morning and returned home after school, and the automobiles, which will cost about $1,200 to $1,400 a year, while the small children must walk to school."

"Now add the cost of coal and janitor work, insurance and other expenses and we have an annual cost of at least $15,000. The actual cost of the institution is not paid for yet."

"Friends, we ask you, who pays for all this? Are the promoters of this scheme going to donate this high school to this community? We fear some of them would help reduce the cost of it very little. It is the taxpayer and the landlord who are going to be bled for this. They are not likely to receive any benefit from it. If their tax bills go higher, don't you think the rent rates will also go up in consequence? Every body must help pay for what he votes for. We, therefore, ask you to consider the facts before you vote for a proposition like the one before us."

"About two weeks ago I was in a neighborhood where a high school has been in progress for some time. I asked one of the business men, 'How are your high school graduates, boys and girls, getting along? I suppose they are all prosperous and happy.' 'Well, I'll tell you,' he said. 'Some are digging holes for the telephone company to set their poles. Some are working in the lively stable cleaning the barns and horses and harness. Some are working for the RR company leaving at 5:30 a. m. and returning at about 7:30 p. m. They are fed on green peas and other good things at noon and are earning $20 a month and get the privilege of a free ride.'

"A gauner, employed by one of the International men, had two sons. At the time the oldest one graduated from high school, the second son graduated from the eighth grade, so the father asked the International Harvesting Co. if they could employ his oldest son. He said give me your son who passed the eighth grade, and he earns today over $4,000 a year while the high school graduate cleans spittoons."

REPLY TO OBJECTORS

It is 125 years since Washington was president and over a hundred years since Lincoln was born. Schools were scarce then and but few men were educated; today the reverse is true. Do you want your child to be looked upon as a block-head?

Under the law we can bond for 5 per cent of our valuation, and cannot go beyond that limit. A high school graduate could read the law and find that out. Our valuation is about $1,000,000. Five per cent of that is $50,000. Beyond this we cannot go. Do not be deceived, our proposition is $40,000 in bonds, running 20 years, at four or five per cent.

The Committee of Directors have grown more generous than is their habit. They say $40,000 for building and $10,000 for teachers salaries; we say $40,000 for building and $20,000 for teachers salaries. Will you vote for their proposition or ours?

The Maine Township High School has been running some ten years. Have any of the farmers of Maine gone to the poor house? Oh, no, they are all voting for the new $30,000 addition.

"Then it is hard telling what the cost will be $40,000 or $140,000." So says the Committee of Directors. Gentlemen, you are either ignorant of the law or have wilfully misrepresented the facts. Fair play!

The worthy Committee of Directors states at the beginning of their article that "as a rule people with high school education are not afraid to work with their muscles after all! When this fact comes on our Committee of Directors, we expect to see ALL VOTE FOR THE TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL."

Some friends heard from Otto Dreyer, former Palatine police officer who moved to the Ozarks last summer. Otto reported that he was enjoying nice weather, green grass and plenty of hunting and fishing. And from out in sunny California comes word that Adolph Godknecht is eating spinach and radishes from his garden as well as picking sweetpeas and other flowers.

Those folks in the mild climates seem to want to make all of us unhappy as possible with their tales of what's going on in the balmy breezes under the sunny skies.

TWO LETTERS
The Palatine Chamber of Commerce received two interesting letters recently. One was from a person who had purchased some stock in the "Palatine Commercial Corporation" and wanted to know if the stock was saleable.

Anyone ever hear of the Palatine Commercial Corporation? No one around here, not even any of the old timers, ever heard of that one.

The other letter was from a resident of New York who enclosed a picture of Don Harris' triplet calves. He wanted information about Palatine and how it got its name.

The writer was anxious to know if the name was a derivation of a locality in Germany. He told of a Palatine bridge in New York that was named after the old German location.

The history of Cook County says that a meeting held in John Slade's home over a century ago the assembled crowd voted for a name.

Two names were proposed, Palatine and Yankton. Palatine won by a vote of 10 to 2.

The history doesn't say where the promoters of the name Palatine got the name, but since this area was settled by Yankee settlers and settlers of German birth or descent, it would be surprising if the Yankees proposed Yankton and the Germans Palatine.

Anyhow Palatine it was, and no suggestion to change the name to something else has ever met with even a hint of publicity, although a few suggestions have been proposed guardedly at one time or another.

WIDE PUBLICITY
Not only did the eastern papers print pictures of the calf triplets of Don Harris, but the California papers did likewise. A local resident received a California paper from a relative living there. So the fame of that family of triplets and their publicity to Mr. Harris' but it also blazoned the name of Palatine from one corner of the nation to the other, and this was good publicity, not like the huge train wreck, fatal plane crash and some of that sort of thing that the Palatine name has had during the past few months.

Until next week,
With love, Mary.

MORE RECORDS

Just because 1950 set all kinds of freakish weather records doesn't seem to be a good reason for 1951 to start out to do the same thing, but, evidently, 1951 is going to do just that. It has already hung up a few records of its own in the cold line.

Tuesday of last week was one of the coldest days in many years in these parts. Village thermometers showed from 20 to 24 degrees below zero, and readings out in the country were colder than that.

It was 26 below at the disposal plant; 24 below at the bulk plant of the Gaare Oil Co.; and 28 below out in Inverness according to Stanley Pepper. That looked like the coldest spot around here until someone from over near Long Grove came in and said it was 33 below.

Anyhow it was plenty cold and even the oldest of the old timers were perfectly willing to admit that this was really an old-fashioned winter.

Then along came Friday morning (ground 18 to 24 below) with readings of from 10 to 24 below. Yes, there is no argument about it. This is an old-fashioned winter for sure.

GROUND HOG

The ground hog didn't have any trouble seeing his shadow Friday morning. In fact, one radio announcer predicted the night before that it was going to be ten below or worse and when the ground hog came out, he wouldn't even stop to look for his shadow, but would just dive back into his hole and stay there.

So, if the ground hog has anything to say about it, we're in for another six weeks of winter, which won't be too bad if the winter will really let up then and let a little spring weather come on through.

One weather forecaster says the ground hog doesn't know what he's talking about anyway; he's only been right three out of ten years, so never mind what old Mr. Ground Hog says.

NORTHERN VACATION

Tom Norman would be different from anyone else! While everyone else has been going south for winter vacations, Tom and his wife went north to Minneapolis, Minn., Tom's home town.

Tom says they were royally entertained by relatives and old friends who fed them so well that Tom gained two pounds a day and now he has to go on a diet and take off ten or 15 pounds to make up for celebrating memories of the old days.

Some friends determined to take a trip to Florida before the winter ends.

NICE WEATHER
Had a card from George Reinbolt down in Florida the other day, and he said the weather had gotten very nice and the fishing was fine. He said he caught 36 nice trout one day, and that news is enough to make any fisherman wish that he was down there along that famous Indian river.

Some friends heard from Otto Dreyer, former Palatine police officer who moved to the Ozarks last summer. Otto reported that he was enjoying nice weather, green grass and plenty of hunting and fishing.

And from out in sunny California comes word that Adolph Godknecht is eating spinach and radishes from his garden as well as picking sweetpeas and other flowers.

Those folks in the mild climates seem to want to make all of us unhappy as possible with their tales of what's going on in the balmy breezes under the sunny skies.

TWO LETTERS
The Palatine Chamber of Commerce received two interesting letters recently. One was from a person who had purchased some stock in the "Palatine Commercial Corporation" and wanted to know if the stock was saleable.

Anyone ever hear of the Palatine Commercial Corporation? No one around here, not even any of the old timers, ever heard of that one.

The other letter was from a resident of New York who enclosed a picture of Don Harris' triplet calves. He wanted information about Palatine and how it got its name.

The writer was anxious to know if the name was a derivation of a locality in Germany. He told of a Palatine bridge in New York that was named after the old German location.

The history of Cook County says that a meeting held in John Slade's home over a century ago the assembled crowd voted for a name.

Two names were proposed, Palatine and Yankton. Palatine won by a vote of 10 to 2.

The history doesn't say where the promoters of the name Palatine got the name, but since this area was settled by Yankee settlers and settlers of German birth or descent, it would be surprising if the Yankees proposed Yankton and the Germans Palatine.

Anyhow Palatine it was, and no suggestion to change the name to something else has ever met with even a hint of publicity, although a few suggestions have been proposed guardedly at one time or another.

WIDE PUBLICITY
Not only did the eastern papers print pictures of the calf triplets of Don Harris, but the California papers did likewise. A local resident received a California paper from a relative living there. So the fame of that family of triplets and their publicity to Mr. Harris' but it also blazoned the name of Palatine from one corner of the nation to the other, and this was good publicity, not like the huge train wreck, fatal plane crash and some of that sort of thing that the Palatine name has had during the past few months.

ORANGES

Another fellow who has been enjoying some of the fruits of those warmer climates is Horace Gilbert of Palatine park.

While Mrs. Gilbert has been busy keeping that driveway clear of snow, he has been refreshing himself in some nice juicy orange grove.

But all those folks who have been telling about the nice weather, the fishing, the hunting and the fruits of those southern climates have experienced some unhappy moments during the past week. The big cold wave swooped through most of the south doing millions of dollars worth of damage to crops.

SAND DIET

The birds aren't only hungry for food these days. They are also hungry for sand. There seems to be something about that they need to complete their diet.

We found that out accidentally a while back when one icy morning we sprinkled some sand on the steps.

The birds immediately pounced upon that sand as if it were food. When flocks of them lighted on the steps to gobble up the sand. Since then we have added a little sand to their seed ration from time to time. We suppose that the birds go for the sand for the same reason that chickens are always anxious for grit, and in their diet.

Anyhow if they didn't need it, they surely wouldn't eat it. Those fox birds sure know the difference between bird feed and plain sand.

EARLY EASTER

Easter makes an early visit this year coming on March 25, March 21, the first day of spring, falls on a Wednesday. A full moon makes its appearance on Good Friday, March 23, with Easter coming on Sunday.

It may be a little early in the season for the Easter parades and then again after this old fashioned winter it may be real springlike when that early Easter comes along.

STILL BLOOMING

That Seip cactus plant is like the old fashioned winter—it just hates to give up. It's still blooming and still shooting out a few buds every so often. As long as those weather prophet cactus plants insist on fresh blooms there isn't much chance of a let-up in winter weather.

If they would just quit blooming and start to get dormant, a person might think that there was a chance of some mild weather ahead, but as long as they insist on blooming all the time, we might as well do like the ground hog—crawl in our hole for another six weeks.

DISCUSSION

The cold wave unmasked a discussion as to whether the youngsters of today were as rugged and determined as those kids of way back when.

It all started because the cold wave seemed to freeze up the newspaper deliveries. The youngsters apparently did not want to go out in the bitter cold.

A lot of the old timers began telling about how they used to peddle papers and that they didn't let a little cold or snow scare them.

It was really surprising to see how many of the fellows got their start on a paper route, and they all told the same story—that those papers got delivered regardless of weather. There wasn't any missing day or evening deliveries of morning papers.

The cold weather seems also to have affected the throwing arms of the boys. When they shoot at the steps during that cold weather, the paper usually landed out in the deep snow bank somewhere between the steps and the street. "None of that stuff either," say the old timers. "When they delivered them, they delivered them where they were supposed to be delivered."

EARLY BIRDS—AND LATE
The friendly little juncos seem to be about the earliest "getter-upper" of the bird family these winter days and he's also the latest one in the evening to leave for wherever it is he hangs out at night.

The sun isn't up yet in the mornings and the dusk is still thick when the little juncos start looking for breakfast on the feeding ground on the window sill, and in the evening it will be getting dark and all the other birds will be gone before the juncos give up their search for food.

The juncos are less nervous and scarry than the rest of the bird population and seem to have more faith in their human friends than the rest of the bird tribe.

The other day a fat squirrel was gobbling up all the food put on the window sill for the birds and his presence kept away all of the birds but the juncos.

Some of the little juncos refused to be bluffed out of their meal by his presence and flew onto the window sill and started getting their share, eating with in a couple of inches of the squirrel who was scooping in the bird seed like a steam shovel digging a ditch.

In the future
Bad news for speeding automobile drivers. A special effective material called Scotchlite which makes license plate numbers visible for a quarter of a mile. . . . A new home garbage disposal unit in the low price field, grinds bones, orange rinds with equal ease. . . . A new lapin-based hand warmer for home or industry, called Goop, that can be used with or without water. . . . A 10-ounce mercury tube unit that can give a suntan to the entire body; packaged in an aluminum gold case, it can be used for home or travel.

NO SNOW OR WIND

Twenty-nine Palms, Calif. It's really nice work sitting here in my trailer with the door open and the sun shining in on me very warm. But if it gets too warm I can close the door and not sweat out some of the heat—no snow and wind as I hear many back home have been having to do. I enjoy the Register every week but both Dec. 15th and 22nd issues reached me on the same day, Dec. 29th. So I think there was some rough going there was snow, wind, parcel post and heavy mails all through. Am hoping to spend more time around Bensenville if I am able to come east this coming summer. Far too short a time last summer.

Your Old (and still) Bensenville Booster, Guy E. Sampson.

Enclosed are renewals for the Arlington Heights Herald for myself and Mrs. Paul Stier of Portland, Oregon. I know she will miss the paper very much if she didn't receive it. She keeps in touch with friends through the paper. I know I'd miss my paper if it didn't arrive every week.

TOP FIFTEEN

I've just seen your sports page for today and have you made an error? I'm a very good fan of the very first school on the Top Fifteen high school basketball poll. The school's name is not Morton Grove, but just plain Morton after the great J. Sterling Morton. This top team is in Cicero, Illinois, and the one that you have, Morton Grove, is a very tiny suburb that no one really knows about.

Please, before any more Morton fans see it, correct it in your next week's issue.

HOBBIES Yours and Mine

BY BETTY AINSLIE

Flowers nod from every window and window sill at the home of Mrs. Don Gieseke at 406 S. Vail in Arlington Heights.

African Violets of every size, every shape and every stage of development are a part of the hobby of this busy and attractive woman.

Both Mrs. Gieseke and her 80 year old mother share this hobby and easily grow hundreds of healthy, husky plants. About 20 years ago Mrs. Gieseke bought a small violet plant—it bloomed and bloomed—not like mine—anyway she got interested in the varieties and types of these plants so started a hobby which is almost self supporting.

"THAT IS," laughed Mrs. Gieseke, "I sell some of the started plants and with the money buy other rarer or different violets and increase my collection, as I like a hobby to be self supporting."

Mrs. Gieseke is a member of the African Violet Society—of America which publishes a booklet quarterly on all the problems of violet growers, and prints information about where African Violets are being held.

At the African Violet Society last year at Crystal Lake, Mrs. Gieseke won two ribbons for the plants she entered.

"There are three ways of propagating these plants," said Mrs. Gieseke, "by seed, by cuttings and by dividing plants. The last two are the easiest."

Mrs. Gieseke takes care of a large house, two daughters, one an invalid since birth, and her mother, and still has time to enjoy a real hobby of violet growing—oh yes she also grows cacti, too. I can attest to that as I had a sample of her apple coffee cake which was delicious.

ARLENE, MRS. GIESEKE'S older daughter has a number of invalid pen pals she writes to. Many of them are spastic children like herself and she writes to boys and girls in Europe, Australia and Canada.

Donna Lee, a miniature blond edition of her older sister, goes to kindergarten at South school this year.

Speaking of letters and letter writing, Mrs. Gieseke belongs to a Round Robin African Violet club. There are ten members out of state and they write about problems or new discoveries they've made in growing violets.

"Wish there was an African Violet growers club here in town," wistfully declared Mrs. Gieseke. "So maybe if you grow violets too and enjoy talking about them you might call her and see her large collection of over 300 plants and 75 different varieties."

Mrs. Gieseke let me have a copy of the following poem written by Mrs. George L. Coder which I thought tells clearly and cleverly all about those rare and temperamental—to me that is—plants and just how to grow 'em.

African violet is my name, I've come to live with you. And as I'm quite persnickety I'll tell you what to do. Don't ever wash my hands and face, For water there won't suit. I do my drinking with my feet. So water is my food.

Just set me down into a pan Of water for an hour; For me, that way to take a drink Beats any Summer shower. I like a soft light, but not sun, North windows suit me better. Perhaps you'd find me, on your desk Good company for a letter. And—oh, I like to be cramped up Under a tiny pot. If you should give me lots of room I will not bloom a lot.

And when I grow to be quite stumpy, You can have many another. Just cut a leaf and pluck it down. It's not a bit of bother. Before you know it, up will start An African Violet baby. If you pin down a lot of leaves You'll get two dozen, maybe. "Saintpaulia" is my fancy name To violet I'm not related. This thing of cousins, aunts and such Makes life quite complicated. If you'll have me for your own, We'll have some happy hours. And I will try my level best To make you lots of flowers.

Color Blindness
Color blindness is a relatively unimportant factor in highway accidents. Inability to distinguish red from green is the most common form of color blindness, but stop lights have sufficient yellow in the red and sufficient blue in the green to prevent confusion.

Many times in my years of carrying mail, I have seen the value of religious training in developing the personality of children, their attitude toward life, their respect for other people and their strength of character.

Development and firm I am firmly convinced that children brought up in a religious family and in the church, or better yet, with a background of religious training in a Christian rather than a public school are the best fitted for meeting the trials, hardships and puzzling aspects of life which care the lives of so many people with no moral or spiritual background upon which to base their thinking and actions.

It has always been a heart-ache to me that, with one God, one Christ, and a common knowledge among most of mankind as to the one way to happiness and getting along with others, man, with all of his scientific development, great philosophies and religious concepts, still cannot find a common ground upon which to base universal religious training in public schools. And because he cannot, generations are born and raised with little upon which to base the conduct of their lives other than the satisfaction of their own emotional and physical desires. The result has been war and death, sorrow, blood, hardship and tears.

Whether religion is Buddhist, Catholic, Mohammedan or Protestant, all are based on the belief that love of one another, good moral life and a firm belief in a Superior Being forms the basis for happiness on earth and immortality.

I have seen many a boy or girl with good religious background and training stray from the path, only to be drawn back into it to live a happy, useful life based on that background. And I have

Weekly recipe
Bread Crumb Omelet is a plain but substantial recipe which you will find economical, easy to make, and satisfying. It's a popular dish in our home and we usually serve it with orange marmalade or crab apple jelly. Occasionally, instead of using the marmalade or jelly, we substitute tomato sauce. This depends, of course, upon what other foods are being served.

Bread Crumb Omelet
2/3 cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup milk
5 eggs, separated
1 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper, optional
2 tbsp. melted butter

Method: Soften bread crumbs in milk. Add salt and pepper and well beaten egg yolks. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into first mixture. Melt butter in skillet and pour in omelet and cook over low heat until firm. Fold over in half. Serve hot with orange marmalade.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER
BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXEL
"Give me a child before he is 5 years old," a famous Catholic leader once said, "and that child will be a Catholic."

That is exactly how important the early training of a child is. The early background of a child tends to direct and control his whole life.

Much discussion has taken place as to the advisability of teaching children religion in the schools. Almost all of the controversy has been caused by the jealousy and difference of opinion about the religion to be taught, and who shall teach it. Very little opposition has come from people who do not approve of the truths or the value innate in religion itself—its great moral and spiritual value to the individual's life.

Many times in my years of carrying mail, I have seen the value of religious training in developing the personality of children, their attitude toward life, their respect for other people and their strength of character.

Development and firm I am firmly convinced that children brought up in a religious family and in the church, or better yet, with a background of religious training in a Christian rather than a public school are the best fitted for meeting the trials, hardships and puzzling aspects of life which care the lives of so many people with no moral or spiritual background upon which to base their thinking and actions.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE
Q.—What is the proper sequence of pages in a social letter?
A.—It is correct to write on the first page, then the third—on the first, second, third and fourth. The latter order is probably the better in the case of very long letters, as it avoids confusion. Never write sideways or crosswise, as it leads to difficulty in reading.

Q.—Is it considered proper for a man to sandwich himself between two women when walking with them on the street?
A.—The man always takes the curb side of the pavement, whether he is walking with one woman or with two.

Q.—Is it proper to tip the hostess of an airliner for the special services she renders?
A.—No.

Q.—How does one congratulate a man and girl who have just announced their engagement?
A.—Never congratulate a girl. Instead, wish her happiness, and congratulate the man. You may say, "I've just heard of your engagement, and I certainly wish you every happiness." And to the man, "Congratulations, Bill. I know you've found a fine girl."

Q.—What are the two most popular ways of introducing a man and a woman?
A.—Either, "Miss Lake, may I present Mr. Ford?" Or, "Miss Lake, Mr. Ford." Observe that in both forms, the woman's name is mentioned first.

Q.—What is the proper way to eat an apple at the dinner table?
A.—The proper way is to quarter the apple, and then using the fingers, eat each quarter.

Q.—I have often seen the dummy's partner in a bridge game pass over his hand for the dummy's inspection before beginning play. Is this considered proper?
A.—It is definitely improper. It delays the game, and the dummy will have ample time to see his partner's cards as they are played.

Q.—If in a public restaurant and your dinner companion says to the waiter, "May I have some more butter," is it proper to offer your own butter which you haven't touched?
A.—No; this is considered improper, whether it be your untouched butter, water or bread roll.

Q.—Is it proper for the mother to mail a printed "thank you" card for a gift sent to her newborn baby?
A.—No; the mother's thanks should be expressed in a sincere, personally-written note.

Q.—What is the proper level to which water glasses for the dinner table should be filled?
A.—They shouldn't be more than about three-fourths full.

Arrows Tinge
Arrows used in modern archery are generally crested. That is, they have bright painted rings near their vanes so that, when two or more archers are shooting at the same target, each one can identify his arrows. These stripes, which are painted on, must be uniform in order to present a neat, attractive appearance. The paint is brushed on, using special lathes to rotate the arrows.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Handy man

Young Bobby Lyons may someday be a builder, architect or engineer, or just a good handy man! "He loves to work with his Daddy's tools," said Mrs. Lyons, "and they are his favorite toys." He is the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lyons of 201 N. Emerson st., Mt. Prospect. Bobby has blond hair, hazel eyes and is just a "good little fellow" declared his mother.

Musical Miss

and Mrs. Edward Mayer of 403 S. State rd., Arlington Heights.

Jo Anne has bright blue eyes and "has an inclination for music," said Mrs. Mayer. "If someone will play the piano or any instrument for her, she listens intently and encourages them to continue," she explained. "Then she proceeds to imitate them." Perhaps little Jo Anne is following in her mother's footsteps. Mrs. Mayer was formerly a traveling musician on tour with the USO as a pianist during the last war.

John Mayer of the Northwest Ornamental Iron Shop and also of 403 S. State rd. is her paternal grandparent.

Really a rascal

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas K. Chaffee of 205 N. Wille ave., Mt. Prospect, have two young sons. The oldest is Joseph, a rather quiet seven-year-old in first grade at Central school. The other is Tommy, the 20-month-old and blue-eyed little fellow pictured next.

"Tommy and Joseph have such different personalities," laughed Mrs. Chaffee. "Tommy is really a rascal and quite a little clown." His favorite toy is a woolly dog his grandmother gave him last Christmas. "Jeepers," the pup, and a bird are his live pets.

Cheerful cherub

These expressive brown eyes and sweet expression belong to sixteen-month-old Kristi Lee Bergstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bergstrom of 410 N. Wille st., Mt. Prospect.

"Kristi Lee is cheerful, good company and loves other children," stated Mrs. Bergstrom when describing her youngest child. "She is especially fond of her two brothers, Barry and Corky, and loves to play with them." Barry is nine and in fourth grade and Corky is six and in first grade, both attending Central school.

Slightly used wool bathrobe of Park Ridge doctor now for sale

Dr. George Truman Carl, Park Ridge Methodist church minister, now vacationing in Florida, is offering a slightly-used wool bathrobe for sale at a cut-rate, bargain price. However there are two conditions attached to the sale:
1) You take the robe as is.
2) You have to go to Florida to get it.

Dr. Carl, not too well versed in rubbing sticks together, in Florida, slipped on his robe and ambled out toward the garage for some kerosene to start a fire. Enroute, he stopped at the garage container to get an empty tin can for the kerosene. As he bent over the container, he detected some movement within the can. Dr. Carl assumed the occupant was a rat—but the animal promptly corrected this supposition. Fortunately for Dr. Carl and his family, it was only a small baby skunk!

Plant and Cultivate SOYBEANS IN 20-INCH ROWS

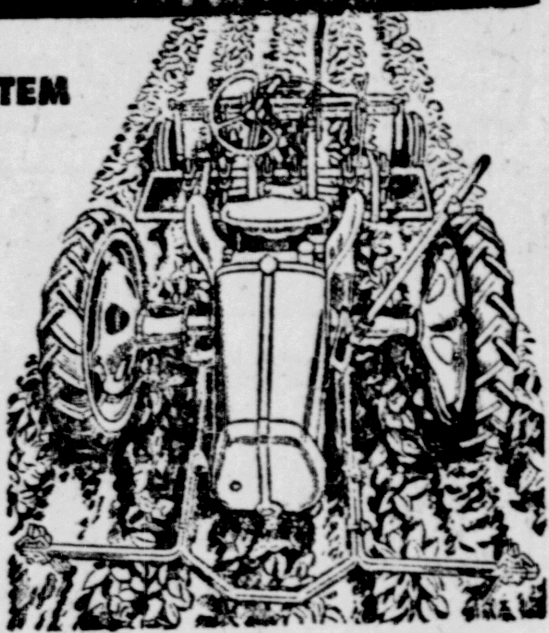

A PROFITABLE SYSTEM FOR GROWING SOYBEANS

Here is a practical method of handling soybeans in 18- to 20-inch rows, three rows at a time—made possible by the rear-engine Model G with power-driven seeder and 60-inch tool bar cultivator.*

Narrow rows give you these advantages:

1. Easier weed control—beans can be safely cultivated when small. Cultivator exactly matches planter row width.
2. Faster, cleaner and easier harvesting.
3. Bigger yields. (Official tests show 2 to 4 bu. per acre more.)

*On clean fields and light soils, the independent gang cultivator may be used.

The extra bushels from narrow spaced rows will soon pay for the Model G seeder and cultivator used with this system. Stop in and talk it over.

Fertilizer must be considered for food and feed goals

If the farmers of America are to be successful in attaining the increased food, feed and fiber goals set by the Administration, greater consideration must be given to the needs of the fertilizer industry for critical materials. This warning was issued by Russell Coleman, president of The National Fertilizer Association, which represents more than 400 members of the industry.

"Removal of acreage allotments can mean little to crop production," declared Dr. Coleman, "unless the fertilizer industry, so closely allied with agriculture, is accorded treatment with regard to supplies of sulfuric acid similar to that given other key industries such as steel, rubber and petroleum."

"OUR INDUSTRY'S capacity is approximately 3 times that which existed in 1940, just prior to World War II. Even though fertilizer demand this year may be 20 per cent greater than last year we can come close to producing all of the nitrogen and potash required. But such increased production will not be completely effective unless supplies of sulfuric acid are made available for the manufacture of superphosphate which in turn is a key component of most fertilizers."

"Only if our leaders recognize the vital role of agriculture in America's defense and allot to it its proportionate share of critical materials can our farmers efficiently do the job assigned to them."

Clinton oats recommended for all Illinois

Clinton 11 oats and other Clinton selections were recommended for all parts of Illinois for 1951 by a plant breeder in the Illinois College of Agriculture.

O. T. Bonnett makes the recommendation for Clinton after considering yield, test weight and stiffness of straw. If you're satisfied with a weaker strawed variety than Clinton 11, Marion has a good yield record and is a little more resistant to crown rust race 45 than Clinton.

Andrew variety yields well in northern and central Illinois, while Benton and Columbia are high producers in southern Illinois. Other varieties would be second choices.

BONNETT ADDS that Clinton 11, Marion and Andrew are the best choices for resistance to crown rust race 45.

Clinton 11 averaged 66 bushels an acre for the four years 1947-50 in a northern Illinois test field and 63 bushels for the same period in central Illinois. It has been outstanding in these areas.

But it is threatened by two new crown rust races and race 7 of stem rust. These hazards may change its performance in the next year or two, although the amount of disease damage will depend on the weather. In several years of testing, there has been no difference in performance of Clinton 11, Clinton 59 and Reselect Clinton.

CROP GROWERS

Illinois vegetable crop growers earned 7 percent less in 1950 than in 1949, but ranked sixth in the nation in total acreage of processing crops.

New Cattle Sprayer

Self-spraying device for beef cattle invented by Willis N. Bruce of the Illinois Natural History Survey, Urbana, aids the animals of flies, including hard-to-control horse flies. Cattle step on treadle mounted in chute. Treadle is connected with one or two small nozzles which spray backs and sides of cattle passing through chute on way to water or salt. Plastic-coated screen wire covers nozzles to act as windshield and direct spray on animals.

SPRINGFIELD—A simple device developed by an entomologist of the Illinois Natural History Survey at Urbana may be the means of saving thousands of dollars for beef cattle raisers in the state next summer.

Dr. Harlow B. Mills, chief of the state biological research agency, which is under supervision of the State Department of Registration and Education, said the device enables beef cattle to apply to themselves a spray that kills them of horse flies, thus relieving them of suffering and giving them a chance to put on weight much faster than if pestered by the insects.

Invented by Willis N. Bruce, assistant entomologist of the survey division, the device sprays a fine mist of fly killer on the back and sides of any animal that walks across a treadle on the way to water or salt. The treadle, mounted in a chute, is attached to a rod that operates a simple hydraulic pump that forces a minute amount of concentrated spray material through small nozzles. The spray material is ten per cent piperonyl butoxide and one per cent pyrethrin.

In a test last summer, ten steers in a southern Illinois pasture with Bruce's applicator gained 900 pounds in 30 days. Ten other unsprayed steers in a nearby pasture gained 390 pounds. The 310 pounds difference represented a gain advantage for the self-sprayed steers of more than a pound per day.

The material cost about a cent per animal per day. With beef selling at about $30 per hundred or 30 cents a pound, the treatment netted a nice profit.

Bruce points out that the test was for a short period and that other tests might give somewhat different figures. However, farmers who followed the Illinois Natural History Survey experiment, which was conducted at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois, are convinced that Bruce's device will free cattle of the pain-inflicting horse flies—and other flies too—wherever they are found.

Details on how to construct the device may be obtained without cost by addressing an inquiry to the Natural History Survey at Urbana.

LAW on the FARM

Stray dogs

Farmers often ask, "What is my right to kill dogs that come onto my property?"

There is a statute in Illinois that allows the owner of domestic animals to pursue and kill dogs when they are discovered in the act of killing, wounding or chasing domestic animals. This law confers the right to kill a molesting dog when the dog is not accompanied by its owner, and when it is doing one of the acts listed in the statute.

Also, a sheep owner may put out poison for dogs, so long as he does it on his own premises and with reasonable care and good intentions. Another statute permits this.

Regardless of statute, a property owner has a right of action against a dog's owner for all damages caused by the dog whether to livestock or other property. There might even be liability on the part of a dog owner for spreading animal disease, if the facts could be proved.

In many Illinois counties the raising of sheep is virtually prohibited by stray dogs. Sometimes it is not strays, but the neighbor's dogs, that is responsible. In either case flock owners may seek reimbursement from a county indemnity fund for animals killed or injured by dogs. Maximum indemnities are as follows:

Sheep or goats—$15 per head.
Cattle—$75 per head.
Horses or mules—$50 per head.
Swine—$25 per head.
Turkeys—$5 per head.

To secure the indemnity the owner of the injured livestock must present his claim to the township supervisor and follow a definite procedure prescribed by law. In counties not under township organization, the claim should be presented to a justice of the peace.

Some additional responsibility was placed on dog owners by a 1949 law which states that anyone owning or "harboring" a dog may be liable if it bites someone. This law may be of some help in answering the man who says, "That was not my dog."

Anyone interested in dog laws may read all the acts mentioned above in Chapter 8 of the Illinois Revised Statutes, Sections 12a to 23. Copies of these acts may be procured from the Secretary of State, Springfield, Ill.

Re-Dyeing Prints

Is it possible to re-dye printed fabrics? Yes, and the result often creates a highly desirable color effect. The print design, however, cannot be removed and will show through even when dyed black. Darker dye-colors are recommended by the bureau, therefore, so as to subordinate the original print pattern as much as possible.

Here are steps for a better chick brood

Give chicks a comfortable home. Scrape the brooder house, scrub and spray it with a disinfectant. See that it's in good repair . . . no cracks or holes . . . and move it to new ground. Disinfect all equipment before putting it in the house.

Use deep litter . . . at least four or five inches . . . and keep it dry. Damp litter invites trouble. Loosen the top layer daily and add two or three inches of litter every third week. For the first few days cover the litter with heavy paper to prevent litter eating.

Clean and repair the brooder stove and test it for temperature control. It should run steadily at about 95 degrees the first week, 90 degrees the second, 85 degrees the third, and 80 degrees until heat is discontinued. Be sure chimney is capped. Build a brooder ring around the stove two feet from the edge of the hover. Start the stove 48 hours before chicks arrive so the house will be thoroughly warmed for them. Avoid chilling or overheating by watching their activity.

Feed a good chick starter. Provide one inch of hopper space for each chick, four one-gallon waterers for each 350 chicks. Place feeders spoke fashion from under edge of hover. Keep them filled with chick starter and sprinkle a few handfuls on extra egg flats. Chick-size grit should be scattered over the feed. When adding new feed each day, mix it with the old, first removing any that may be contaminated. Egg flats can be removed after the third day.

Change the water each day, being sure to disinfect the waterers before refilling. Use extra fruit jar funnels the first week. Your daily chore time routine:

1. Disinfect shoes or slip on rubbers before entering brooder house.
2. Adjust ventilation.
3. Check room temperature.
4. Refill brooder stove, clean and inspect.
5. Watch activity of chicks. They should spread out evenly around outside edge of hover. Adjust temperature accordingly.
6. Put fresh feed in feeders and stir with leftover.
7. Clean and fill fountains.
8. Look for damp litter and wet spots.
9. Rake top layer of litter.
10. Add grit as needed.
11. In the evening turn on brooder light.

Forecasts synthetic rubber plants at full speed during March

"In March of this year, all of the synthetic rubber plants in the United States should be in operation and as soon as they get up to capacity production they should be turning out synthetic rubber at the rate of a million tons a year," Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., chairman of the Firestone tire and rubber company, declared in an address on "Rubber and Defense" before several hundred business and financial leaders.

"Under these circumstances," he said, "it appears that there will be an ample supply of rubber to meet all essential civilian needs without rationing rubber products and, at the same time, to fulfill all of our defense requirements."

Mr. Firestone pointed out that motorists were fortunate because there had never been so many good tires on the 35,000,000 motor vehicles on the road. He attributed this condition to the recent "high rate of new automobile production and the tremendous sale of replacement tires in 1950."

"The industry's production outlook for next year depends upon available supplies of rubber far more than on the usual factors of customer demand and buying power," Mr. Firestone continued. "However, with all synthetic rubber plants operating at capacity and increased orders for military tires and other defense products the rubber industry should operate at a high level in 1951."

TAX FACTS

By George E. Mahlin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers Federation of Illinois

No business or industry would close its doors three months out of every year when the demand for its product exceeded its capacity to produce.

Yet, schools do not operate during part of June, and all of July and August. At the same time, school boards throughout the State are confronted with the problem generally of not being able to take care of increasing numbers of school children, and are appealing more and more to the people to vote bond issues for construction of new schools that will also stand idle for as much as three months out of each year.

Unless there is some really valid objection to the idea, the problem of school overcrowding could be solved by throwing tradition out the window, dividing the school year on a quarterly instead of semester basis, and operating the school buildings four quarters each year. Each child would attend three quarters, and attendance would be so scheduled that total attendance in the school building each quarter would be approximately the same.

The purpose of the public school system is to provide the best education that it possibly can to the children. There is no reason why this departure from traditional dates of school operation should affect in any way the quality or quantity of the education provided. In fact, it might result in smaller class sizes which would, theoretically at least, result in a better quality of education.

From the standpoint of expense, it should not cost as much to operate the present school plant four quarters a year as it would to increase the size of the school plant to operate the traditional nine months, even assuming the teachers and other personnel would not work any longer each year than they now do. It would save the cost of construction of new plants to meet what may well be a temporary increase in school population. School construction could then be limited to replacement of existing plant as it becomes unfit for further use. This too is an important factor in these times of scarcity of materials and labor for construction work. Necessary new construction could then be scheduled for depression periods when it would help provide work.

This idea is thrown out in the hope that it will provoke full discussion of this important problem. If there are valid objections, other than the inconvenience it might cause in the vacation plans of a portion of the parents, then school boards should give serious consideration to the proposal in considering what to do about overcrowding of school buildings. It may even warrant legislative action after a full discussion has been had.

"Horse Cocktails" Gone

Allying horses often used to get a kick out of life, before modern science came along with fancy pill and wonder-working drugs. Some veterinarians of the horse-and-buggy days considered "rum, whiskey, brandy, gin, port, sherry, claret, champagne, stout, ale, and lager beer as particularly useful in aiding the recovery of sick horses."

Today, penicillin, sulfa drugs, and vitamin-mineral tonics have largely replaced the cocktail hour for equine patients.
